How to find dpi (dots per inch)

1. If you are looking at the photo file in a folder, right click on the file.
2. Choose Properties from the drop down list.
3. At the top of the pop up window you will see details, click there.
4. Scroll down to Horizontal and Vertical resolution under "Image".
5. The resolution for both must be a minimum of 300 pdi.

Example (this image would be too small at 96 dpi):
